

Study Group on Eighteenth-Century Russia

64th Annual Meeting (2023)

High Leigh Conference Centre, Hoddesdon

Tuesday 3 January

- 14.00-16.00 Registration and Afternoon Tea
16.00-17.30 Manfred Schrubba (Università degli Studi di Milano), Erotic Motifs in Eighteenth-Century Russian Popular Prints
18.00-19.00 Dinner
19.00-20.30 Alison Smith (University of Toronto), Serfdom and Empire: Annushka and Her World

Wednesday 4 January

- 08.15-09.00 Breakfast
09.30-11.00 Marianna Murav'eva (University of Helsinki), Queering the Eighteenth Century: Can Gender and Sexuality Change Our Critical Perception of Early Modern Russia?
11.00-11.30 Morning Coffee
11.30-13.00 Rosalind Polly Blakesley (University of Cambridge), Projecting Sovereignty across the Baltic Sea: Catherine II, Alexander Roslin, and the Freight Power of the State Portrait
13.00-14.00 Lunch
14.00-16.00 Break / Excursion
16.00-16.30 Afternoon Tea
16.30-18.00 Mikhail Belan (University of Oxford), Raising Militias in the Provincial Towns of Northwest Russia in 1806-7 and 1812: Socio-Economic and Political Aspects and Consequences
18.30-19.30 Dinner
20.00-21.00 Business meeting

Thursday 5 January

- 08.15-09.00 Breakfast
09.30-11.00 Riva Evstifeeva (Université de Strasbourg) and Sara Dickinson (Università di Genova), Blood, Animals, and Violence: Eighteenth-Century Russian Translations of Ossian's 'Duchommar and Morna'
11.00-11.30 Morning Coffee
11.30-13.00 Rodolphe Baudin (Sorbonne Université), Translation as Politics: Translating Karamzin's 'Letters of a Russian Traveler' in Nineteenth-Century France
13.00-14.00 Lunch and end of conference